POST-JUNE 2, 2007 DEFINITION OF SMALL ENTITY

(Section 3.01(3) of the Patent Regulations)

"small entity", in respect of an invention, means an entity that employs 50 or fewer employees or that is a university, but does not include an entity that

(a) is controlled directly or indirectly by an entity, other than a university, that employs more than 50 employees; or

(b) has transferred or licensed or has an obligation, other than a contingent obligation, to transfer or license any right in the invention to an entity, other than a university, that employs more than 50 employees.
